

Battle of Barnet Project

Can you help?

If you would like to volunteer with the Battle of Barnet Project, please fill in this form OR email the information to barnetbattleproject@gmail.com

The Battle of Barnet Project is an initiative to find out more about the Battle of Barnet. An archaeological survey started in autumn 2015, and the Project has just been awarded a Heritage Lottery Fund grant to develop a series of community resources and activities over the next two years.

Getting involved

The Project will take place over the next two years. We expect there will be volunteering opportunities in the following areas, although some will not happen this year. The following table shows the activities and the planned timescale (which may change). If you would like to get involved, please tick the activities below that you are interested in:
